Escalation Policy

When Northwind Commerce (fictional) cases must go to a human specialist.

Mandatory escalation

Escalate when: the issue is marked CRITICAL; fraud is suspected; required information is missing; policy is ambiguous; the customer asks for a human representative; automated resolution has failed twice; or the order amount is ■50,000 or higher.

High-value example

A refund request of ■80,000 exceeds automated handling and must be escalated. No automatic refund should occur.

After escalation

Set ticket status to ESCALATED, record the reason, and stop retrying the same sensitive action.